

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Democracy lives locally

Active participation and engagement are critical for co-op success

Members in good standing with their co-op have the right to seek election to the board of directors. While serving on a board is certainly not for everyone, it is healthy for any co-op to have an engaged membership with a portion of the members interested in serving in a leadership role.

At Frontier Power, we are governed by a board of seven directors, elected by the membership, who provide strategic direction and guidance to ensure we continue to serve the interests of you, the member-owner.

While democracy itself is an imperfect system, it remains the best way to ensure the maximum number of voices is heard. Democracy cannot and should not be taken for granted.

The electric co-op's mission to provide safe, reliable, and affordable power has been achieved. Now, as the utility industry enters an era of change — when people have more choices for the way they receive electricity — it is critically important that we hear your voice and the voices of the most diverse group of members. Through active engagement and participation of the membership, the co-op can ensure it is leading in a direction that the members will want to follow.

The board of directors is also committed to providing solutions that maintain the vibrancy of our local communities. Being a co-op board member requires a real commitment of time and effort, and an attitude of being a servant leader, meaning board members should want to engage to make a real, genuine contribution to our membership and community.

One of the greatest resources of Frontier Power Company is our people. If you are interested in running for a seat on Frontier Power's Board of Directors, we'd like to hear from you. Please call 740-622-6755 or 800-624-8050 to learn more.

Interested in running for your co-op board of trustees and helping your community? We want to hear from you!

The co-op office will be closed on Friday, April 14, in honor of Good Friday.

Have a blessed Easter.

Nomination and election of trustees

As a member of The Frontier Power Company, you are part-owner of the Cooperative. SAFETY

Don't TOY with your SAFETY

When playing outdoors, keep a safe distance from power lines, substations and other equipment your electric co-op uses to send electricity to your home.

Flying remote-controlled toys is fun, but accidentally making contact with a power line or other electrical equipment can be dangerous and, in some cases, even deadly.

- Never fly kites or remote-controlled toys near power lines.
- Stay away from power lines, meters, transformers and electrical boxes.
- Never climb trees near power lines.
- If you get something stuck in a power line, call your electric co-op.
- Never touch or go near a power line that's fallen on the ground.

STAY AWAY FROM DOWNED POWER LINES

Power lines knocked down by spring storms, high winds, or other accidents can be deadly. Don't touch downed or sagging wires. If you come across a damaged utility line or pole, contact Frontier Power. Our crews are trained to handle this emergency and will be sent immediately. Just because an electric wire is down doesn't mean it can't be dangerous.
