Frontier Power installs lights at Warsaw Park

THIS SPRING, the Warsaw Park Board completed a lighting project with the help of Frontier Power. The third baseball field did not have any lighting for evening games and tournaments. Frontier Power donated all the labor necessary to install the poles and provided the poles at cost for the Warsaw Park Board.

This is just another way Frontier Power continues to operate as a Touchstone Energy® Cooperative. Fulfilling the seventh cooperative principle of “Concern for Community” and the fourth Touchstone Energy core value of “Commitment to Community” are part of everyday business at Frontier Power.

We are pleased to help Warsaw Park and look forward to the community and visitors alike enjoying ball games during summer nights. ☺

2016 Frontier Power trustee candidates nominated

The 2016 Nominating Committee recently met to nominate candidates for two positions up for election this year on The Frontier Power Company Board of Trustees. Members of the nominating committee were Howard Cronebaugh, Dale Hedrick, Vernon Mizer, Todd Putt, and Brad Sarchet.

Representing District B-II, Tuscarawas County, on the ballot will be Ann M. Gano McCleary and John Glazer. On the ballot representing District D, Coshocton County, will be Larry L. Blair and David Bower.

District B-II, Tuscarawas County Candidates

Ann M. Gano McCleary (incumbent) is a Certified Public Accountant and owner of Keeping Tabs, Inc. She has served on the Frontier Power board since July 2007. She resides south of New Philadelphia in York Township with her husband, Dave. They have two daughters, Emily and Kelsey. Ann has an associate's degree in dairy science from OSU/ATI and a bachelor's degree in accounting and teaching certification for adult education from Kent State University. For the past 25 years, Ann has worked with farmers and other small-business owners, preparing income taxes and financial statements, assisting clients with cash flow planning, tax planning, loan applications, and analysis of business records, and teaching clients how to keep accurate financial records. She is also an active board member of several foundations, including the New Philadelphia Quaker Foundation, Buckeye Career Center Foundation, Frontier Community Connections Fund, and Friends of Adult Education-Buckeye Career Center.

John Glazer and his wife, Sue, live in York Township in Tuscarawas County. John is a retired educator who served as a teacher and an administrator for 33 years. John and Sue have three children, Bill (Stephanie) Glazer, David (Cindy) Glazer, and Holly (Jason) Schafer, and three grandchildren. John has served as a 4-H advisor and was an active volunteer firefighter for 40 years in York Township. He is also a member of the Farm Bureau and belongs to the Tuscarawas County and Ohio Retired Teachers associations. John and Sue are active members of Jerusalem Church, having served as teachers and youth advisors and on various boards. John and Sue have been Frontier Power members for 48 years. "Frontier Power has a reputation for excellent service, quality personnel, and efficiency in fiscal operation." John would gladly work toward continuing this record of excellence if elected as a board member.

District D, Coshocton County Candidates

Larry L. Blair (incumbent) and his wife, Judith, reside in Lafayette Township, Coshocton County. They have two children, Aleesa (Kevin) Womer and Brandon (Emily) Blair, and four grandchildren. Larry is a retired warehouse manager from Ansell Edmont. He is an active member of WLUMC, presently serving on the finance committee. Larry said he has enjoyed serving on the board of trustees and is currently vice president. Through extensive training, he has completed the Credentialed Cooperative Director program and has received the Board Leadership and Director Gold certification through NRECA. These classes further his knowledge of the cooperative and the electric utility industry. Larry would like to continue membership on the board as they strive to move forward in this federally regulated environment. "I have had a vested interest in the company since 1976 and feel that I have the time and leadership abilities to continue as your trustee."

David Bower resides in Washington Township, Coshocton County. Besides owning and operating a farm, David has also been a Washington Township trustee and has been a Coshocton County Farm Service Agency committee member. David has also served in the Ohio National Guard.

15th Annual Customer Appreciation Day held

Nearly 950 people attended Customer Appreciation Day hosted by Frontier Power, Frontier Propane, Frontier Supply, Progressive Water, and Whit's Frozen Custard on May 6. Despite the windy day, everyone had a great time! Hamburgers, hot dogs, chips, and a scoop of Whit's Frozen Custard were served for lunch. Everyone received attendance gifts and signed up for door prizes, which included three $25 certificates to be used at Frontier Power, Frontier Propane, or Frontier Supply Co., three $10 certificates to Whit's Frozen Custard, and four totes stuffed with giveaways from Frontier Power and Frontier Propane. Coshocton Hot Air Balloon Festival committee members were present with information about the festival. This was the 35th year for the balloon festival in Coshocton and Frontier Power's 10th year as the major sponsor. New this year was the participation of the Touchstone Energy® Cooperatives hot air balloon, which was on display at our Customer Appreciation Day.
